

Equality Diversity & Inclusion Newsletter September/December 2023

SETU disAbility Network Launch

SETU proudly launched its disAbility Network in October.

The disAbility Network will provide a 'strong voice' for the university's disAbleD community

Read more here

EDI office wins 2 awards in Barcelona

The European SMILE Diversity Awards ceremony was held recently to recognise the most innovative and transferable initiatives in diversity and inclusion in higher education. SETU picked up 2 awards, congratulations to Dr Allison Kenneally and Ms Roisin Shanahan.

Read more here

SETU's Dr Cara Daly shortlisted for National Diversity and Inclusion award

SETU are delighted to announce that Dr Cara Daly has been shortlisted for the National Diversity and Inclusion Employee of the Year Award, which recognises an individual who goes the extra mile to champion diversity and inclusion above and beyond their day job.

Read more here

SETU launches Gender Identity & Expression Policy

SETU launched its Gender Identity and Expression policy in October with cross-campus events to show its commitment to supporting diversity and to creating a safe, welcoming and empowering place to work and learn for all.

Read more here

Midlife Women Rock Café and Workshop

The EDI office was delighted to host Breeda Bermingham from Midlife Women Rock Project for a café and workshop as part of Menopause Awareness Month.

Read more here

SETU LGBT+ Staff Network

The SETU LGBT+ Staff Network welcomes new members on an ongoing basis.

All staff (Academic, PMSS, etc.) and research postgraduate students from all SETU campuses are welcome to join. To get involved email pride@setu.ie or visit the network pages.

